HAVE YOUR SAY

on the Dampier Archipelago and Burrup Peninsula Management Plan 2002

The Department of Conservation and Land Management is, on behalf of the Conservation Commission of Western Australia, in the process of preparing a management plan for Dampier Archipelago and Burrup Peninsula. The management plan will detail the purpose of the areas and how the Department will manage them in the long term.

Have Your Say

Public involvement in how these areas should be managed is an important part of the planning process and numerous opportunities will be provided for this to occur. You are invited to register your interest in the development of the management plan. In doing so, the Department can notify you of opportunities to contribute. All contributions are carefully considered and taken into account.

Although the details of the public participation process are yet to be finalised it may, for example, include community workshops, public displays and submissions to the draft management plan. By providing your contact details we can inform you of events/opportunities as they arise and keep you up to date with our progress.

If you wish to register your interest, or register on behalf of a group or organisation, please complete the form on this brochure and post it to the address shown.
